DEGREES OFFERED: BA AND GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

Both the undergraduate major and the graduate certificate program take an interdisciplinary approach in their exploration of women's experiences and the role that ideas about sexual differences have played in human societies. Areas of inquiry include women's participation in social and cultural production; the construction of gender roles and sexuality; the relationship between ideas about gender and concepts inherent in other social, political, and legal structures; and the implications of feminist theory for philosophical and epistemological traditions. Students acquire an understanding of how adopting gender as a significant category of analysis challenges existing disciplines. They also gain proficiency in the methods used to study and compare cultural constructions of gender and sexuality, and they become familiar with the ongoing fundamental debates in women's and gender studies.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS FOR BA IN THE STUDY OF WOMEN AND GENDER

For general university requirements, see Graduation Requirements in this publication. Students majoring in the study of women and gender must complete:

- 36 semester hours of departmental course work (30 hours if this is a second major)
- WGST 101 Introduction to the Study of Women and Gender or WGST 201 Introduction to Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Studies
- WGST 499 and WGST 500 (capstone courses in fall and spring respectively)
- At least one approved non-Western studies course
- At least one approved critical race studies course
- At least one approved theory course

Of the remaining required courses, no more than four (4) courses may be from a single department. All students must work out their individual courses of study with their faculty advisers. Each student's course of study must be approved by the director of the major. Major tracking forms are available in the SWG office for declared SWG majors.

The following courses are among those that can be used to fulfill requirements for the major. As course offerings may vary from year to year, students are urged to consult with their faculty advisers or with the director at the beginning of each semester.

Please note that not all courses listed below will be offered during the academic year. For a current list of courses that will be offered in fall 2004 and spring 2005, please visit the SWG web site at <http://swg.rice.edu>.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN THE STUDY OF WOMEN AND GENDER

The graduate certificate program in the Study of Women and Gender (SWG) is designed to provide interdisciplinary training in the field of women and gender studies to students pursuing a PhD degree at Rice University. Students who have been admitted into a PhD program are eligible to apply to the SWG graduate certificate program. The SWG graduate certificate is not a free-standing degree program; in addition to fulfilling the SWG requirements outlined below, candidates will be required to successfully complete the PhD program into which they have been admitted in order to receive the graduate certificate in SWG. Further information is available on request from the SWG program. For PhD requirements, see the relevant department. For general university requirements, see Graduate Degrees (pages 57-58).

The program awards graduate fellowship stipends, within the limits of available funds, to certificate students during the prospectus-writing semester. Although timelines vary depending on the student's home department, this semester normally occurs during the semester following the completion of coursework and before passing the qualifying examinations in the PhD program. During the prospectus-writing semester graduate certificate students will be enrolled in WGST 502 "Gender, the Disciplines, and Interdisciplinarity." Graduate certificate students will be eligible to work as teaching assistants for an SWG undergraduate core or cross-listed course, or in some cases, to teach a course of their own upon approval of the Steering Committee.

For the graduate certificate in SWG, candidates must complete:

- 9 credit hours of courses in SWG, including two core courses (WGST 501 and WGST 502) and one cross-listed elective course (see list of approved courses below)
- 3 non-credit hours for participation in annual colloquium

SWG certificate students are strongly encouraged to include a member of the SWG faculty on their dissertation committee, and to consult regularly with the faculty member as they pursue their dissertation work.

The following courses are those that can be used to fulfill requirements for the graduate certificate. In most cases, students will be able to complete these requirements within the normal time limits for coursework in their PhD program. All students must work out their individual courses of study with the SWG Director and the graduate adviser in their home department. Each student's course of study must be approved by the SWG Director. Please note that not all courses listed below will be offered during the academic year. For a current list of courses that will be offered in fall 2004 and spring 2005, please visit the SWG web site at <http://swg.rice.edu>.

III. Annual Colloquium Requirement

Graduate certificate students will participate in a colloquium involving a series of four speakers over the course of a year, to be offered annually at Rice and organized by SWG. Colloquium attendance by graduate certificate students constitutes an official requirement for the certificate. Colloquium topics will be determined by the SWG Steering Committee with a view to highlighting emerging knowledge in the field of women's studies. The colloquium will provide graduate students with the opportunity to engage in sustained intellectual exchange with leading women's studies scholars and to participate in cutting edge work in the field.
