Amy Jaffe, project coordinator for energy research at Rice University's James A. Baker III Institute for Public Policy, will discuss the institute's most recent study "Unlocking the Assets: Energy and the Future of Central Asia and the Caucasus," starting at noon on Thursday, May 21, 1998, at McKenna & Cuneo offices, 1900 K Street, N.W., Suite 100.

The program, sponsored by the Japan Information Access Project, will be moderated by S. Enders Wimbush, assistant director of the Strategic Assessment Center, Science Applications International Corporation (SAIC).

Please contact the Japan Information Access Project at (202) 822-6040 if you plan on attending the lunch.

For copies of the Baker Institute's latest energy report, which is the focus of Jaffe's presentation on Thursday, please contact Mike Cinelli, director of the Rice University News Office, at (713) 831-4794 or by E-mail at mcinelli@rice.edu.
